Southport gets a rare four-footed visitor

A mountain lion apparently slipped through pursuers on Saturday after being spotted on a trail running through West Sacramento's Southport area.

A resident reported seeing the big cat at about 11:30 a.m., reported Lieutenant Tod Sockman of the West Sacramento Police Department. The animal was seen along the Clarksburg Trail, a north-south route located east of Jefferson Boulevard near the back of the Nugget supermarket. The sighting occurred between Lake Washington Blvd. and Gateway Drive – a corridor near several different housing subdivisions.

A Yolo County Animal Services officer responded to the first and also spotted the mountain lion.

Police, sheriff's deputies, state Fish and Game officers and firefighters converged and believed the cat was contained inside a six-acre perimeter. But a search failed to turn it up. After six hours, the search was called off, reported Sockman.

He added that mountain lions are most active in evening hours – residents are encouraged to keep their pets indoors at night and avoid being out near the trail at night, morning or evening.

Many residents of the Southport area are familiar with the coyote population – but a confirmed mountain lion sighting is very rare. The cats occasionally – but rarely – attach humans.

There are periodic reports of sightings along Sacramento's American River Parkway, where the animals' prey includes deer.

A Fish and Game warden told the Sacramento Bee that the Southport mountain lion will likely head for nearby agricultural areas within a few days.

How to avoid fraud

Jeff Reisig, Yolo County District Attorney; Rick Plein, Deputy Insurance Commissioner; Rob Yee, Chief Investigator for Department of Insurance; Richard Bigelow, Program Representative III for Department of Consumer Affairs; and Gina Daleiden, President of Davis Unified School District really dish it out at the Fraud Awareness Fair 2009

From the Yolo County District Attorney's Office

Over 200 people attended a "Fraud Fair" on July 8 at the West Sacramento Recreation Center to learn more about fraud and how to prevent it.

Over one hundred law enforcement personnel were on hand to speak to the public and educate them on the most common fraud schemes. Parents also registered their children with the West Sacramento Police Department, in case their children turn up missing or lost.

Some of the agencies in attendance were: Yolo County Sheriff, West Sacramento Police, Woodland Police, Winters Police, Departments of Justice, Insurance, Employment Development, Industrial Relations, Corporations, Consumer Affairs, Bureau of Automotive Repairs and Real Estate were all on hand. From the Federal Government were the US Postal Inspection Services and the Social Security Administration. From the private sector there was GEICO, ESURANCE, CSAA Insurance Companies, Better Business Bureau, the Northern California Fraud Investigator's Association, and the Gold Rush Chapter of the American Certified Fraud Specialist's Association.

Law enforcement officials were on hand to serve up a barbecue lunch presented by Ludy's Main Street Barbeque of Woodland.

District Attorney Jeff Reisig said in a press release that "the City of West Sacramento really put in the effort to make this event the best ever. I want to thank them all for their dedication to educating the public."

Lt. Dan Stroski, who developed the idea, says "I have received many accolades concerning this event and the turn out. It's real easy to do good things when you have good people working with you. My thanks go out to Larry Brooks of the West Sacramento Police Department for his tireless efforts."

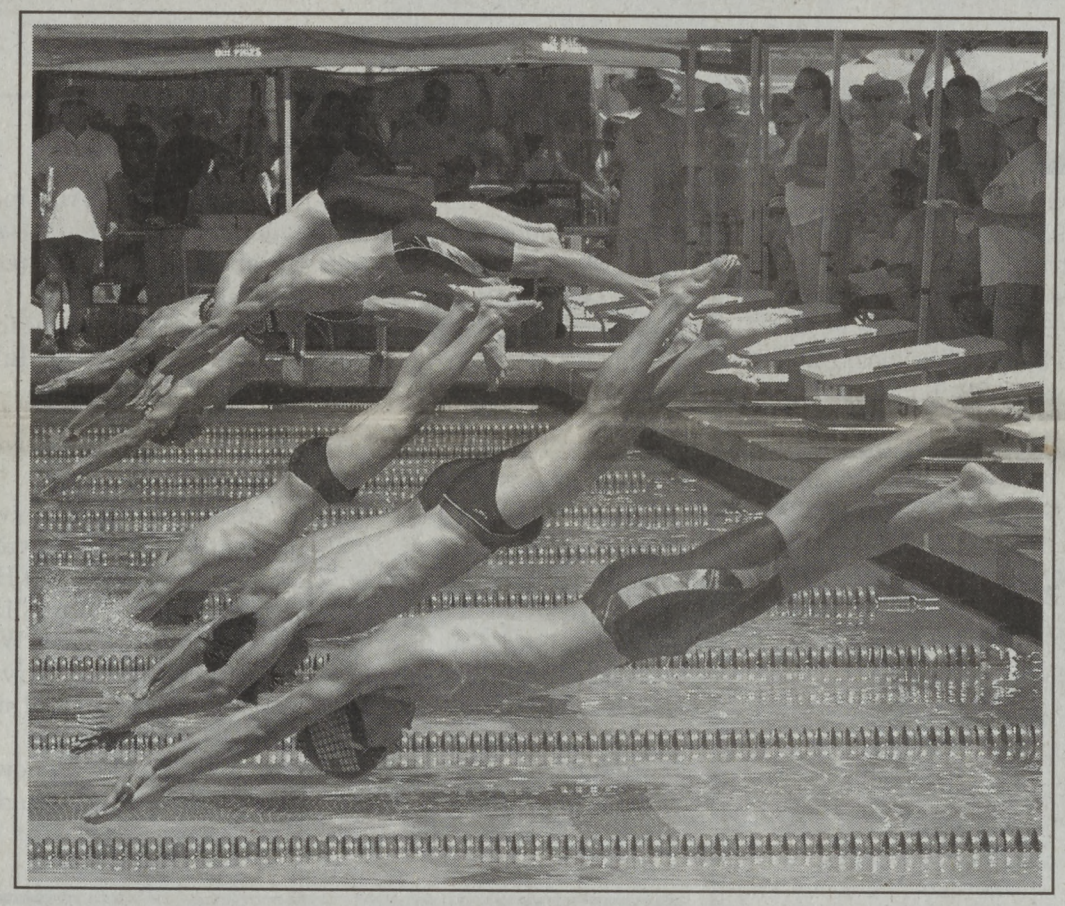
'False imprisonment'

A West Sacramento man was convicted last week to 150 days in jail for the "false imprisonment" of the mother of his children.

The sentence came from Judge Doris L. Shockley in Yolo County Superior Court, reports the office of District Attorney Jeff Reisig.

Witnesses reported the incident on Sept. 26, 2008, and police responded to find that Oscar Gonzalez had "used force and violence to falsely imprison his wife." He was convicted of the crime by a jury in May.

Swimmers converge



A thousand swimmers from around the region, and family and friends bringing the total crowd to over 2,500, converged on the pools at the West Sacramento Recreation Center over the weekend, said the West Sacramento Dolphins swim team.

The local swimmers hosted the Dixon Dolphins, Fair Oaks Dolphins, Fulton El Camino and the Galt Gators. It was the first time West Sacramento hosted the Northern California Swim League Eureka Conference Championships. The event was possible largely because the new pools in Southport opened this year, after being built by the city and Washington Unified School District.

The event led to creation of a "tent city" near the complex, protecting visitors from the summer sun.

Photos by ERIC HARDING

West Sacramento took fourth among the five competitors in the combined team scores at the conference championships. Dixon and Fair Oaks took first and second, respectively.

State budget would 'rip off' West Sac, says mayor

By Steve Marschke

Mayor Christopher Cabaldon told the News-Ledger that the budget now headed for a vote in front of California's legislators would pose large problems for the City of West Sacramento.

The final details haven't been released. But Cabaldon expects the "$5 million hit to the city" will include the diversion of about $3 million in local redevelopment revenues to the state, the taking of at least $500,000 in gas tax revenues, and the proposed "borrowing" of about a million dollars in property tax revenues.

"The gas tax money – that's the money that we use for road repairs, slurry seals and sweet sweeping, along with Measure K money. That's about 20 percent of our Public Works budget."

The hit to the redevelopment agency could stymie future urban renewal programs.

"It's huge," said Cabaldon. "Most of our redevelopment money is obligated already to fund existing projects. That basically wipes out (new) redevelopment for the foreseeable future."

"They need to get their house in order," Cabaldon said of the state legislators. "This is just a straight-up ripoff of local tax money."

Yolo High to join campuses switching places

On July 8, the News-Ledger reported on the school district's plan to remodel the "old" River City High School campus on Clarendon Street into the new "Westmore Oaks Elementary" kindergarten-through-eighth grade campus.

Westmore Oaks is currently split – operating partly at its traditional home on Fallbrook Street and partly at the former "Evergreen Elementary" site on Westacre Road. A couple of readers asked what will become of those sites when Westmore Oaks vacates them.

Cliff Jones, the facilities planner for Washington Unified School District, agreed to answer that question by email.

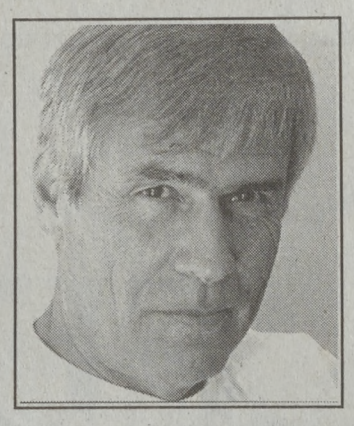
"The West Sacramento Early College Prep Charter School that is currently on the former Evergreen campus will move to the original Westmore Oaks campus," he wrote in part. "The Yolo HS (High School) Continuation School students will move from their current location across the street to the former Evergreen campus. Evergreen Elementary and Middle School Opportunity Programs will move to this campus also."

The district is now engaged in a $140,000 project at the former Evergreen campus, including "the renovation of two classrooms, establishment of a weight training area, improvements to the computer lab, fencing and other minor improvements to the campus," said Jones. The project is expected to be finished this month.

A follow-up question to the district about what will fill the space at Yolo High when that campus moves across the street didn't bring an immediate response.

Thoughts upon the passing of Walter Cronkite

My Back Pages



By Daryl Fisher

American broadcast journalist and longtime anchorman for the CBS Evening News Walter Cronkite passed away this past week and a good friend of mine said to me, "I just hope the media gives his death about ten percent of the coverage they gave to Michael Jackson because that guy really deserves it! When it comes to important Americans, he was the real deal!"

After hearing of Cronkite's death I went online to see if I could find out a little more about him and I learned some pretty interesting stuff. For instance, his parents were of Dutch ancestry on his father's side and his real last name was spelled Krankheyt. And although he was born in Saint Joseph, Missouri, he spent his formative years (high school and college) in Texas. He also used the name Walter Wilcox in his early broadcasting days and was one of only eight journalists selected by the United States Army Air Force to fly bombing raids over Germany in a B-17 Flying Fortress.

By the time Cronkite joined CBS News in the early 1950s he had already made a name for himself in journalism and was soon given the important responsibility of anchoring both the Democratic and Republican National Conventions, which brings me to my little story.

My father was a very hard-working man and he didn't have a lot of spare time to sit around and read newspapers and magazines, but he always wanted to be informed on the issues of the day and he particularly wanted to know everything that was going on in the 1956 presidential election. Being a veteran of World War II, he was torn between being an admirer of General Dwight D. Eisenhower (the Republican incumbent that year) and Adlai Stevenson (the Democratic candidate), who was a strong supporter of union issues, which my father really cared about because it was his Southern Pacific Railroad union which had helped him get and keep a decent job to support his family after he had returned from the war.

So, during the political conventions that year, my father would turn on the television and watch them from gavel to gavel, and for reasons I didn't understand at the time (I was only 9 years old) he always wanted to get his information from Walter Cronkite. And when I asked him many years later why that was, he said simply, "Because the man always told you the truth – no crap – just the truth. You could trust him."

So, from my earliest days, when it was time for the family to sit down after dinner and watch the evening news, it was Walter Cronkite who was seated behind his CBS desk and reporting it. Every once in awhile my father would turn on the NBC News with Chet Huntley and David Brinkley because he thought Brinkley had the best sense of humor of all the network news anchors back then, but when there was a really important news story being reported, he only wanted to hear it from Cronkite. So whether it was the Vietnam War, or the Cuban Missile Crisis, or the assassination of President Kennedy, or the break-in at Watergate, or the Iran Hostage Crisis, or the first landing on the moon, it was always Cronkite who gave my family and me all the important and newsworthy details.

Whether it was the Vietnam War, or the Cuban Missile Crisis, or the assassination of President Kennedy, or the break-in at Watergate, or the Iran Hostage Crisis, or the first landing on the moon, it was always Cronkite who gave my family and me all the important and newsworthy details.

In viewer opinion polls taken back in the 1960s and 1970s, when Cronkite was at the top of his game, he was often cited as "the most trusted man in America" and it's almost impossible to imagine someone in broadcast news today even being mentioned in that context. In fact, what passes nowadays for the so-called news media seems incapable of passing along factual and unbiased information to the voters and citizens of this nation. Instead, we have somehow established dueling right-wing and left-wing 24-hours news organizations with mean-spirited talking-heads incapable of understanding (much less appreciating) points of views other than their own. If you are to the right, there are the Fox Channel programs to tell you what you want to hear. If you are to the left, MSNBC will do the same thing for you. If you are not a fool and can make up your own mind about the problems and challenges facing this nation, the big three (CBS, NBC, and ABC) still have nightly news programs, but they are constantly losing viewers and the funds necessary to do the kind of investigative and in-depth reporting that a free people require. Thankfully, there is still CNN and The News Hour with Jim Lehrer on PBS, but the latter's viewership pales in terms of the numbers of Americans addicted to getting their news from the talking-heads of the left and right.

It seems to me that something really scary is going on in this country. Not only are informative daily newspapers disappearing left and right, but more and more people (especially young people) are getting what little news they're interested in from sources out to entertain them, not inform them. Worse yet, too many of our citizens are simply surrounding themselves with like-thinking people and basically calling it a life. They don't want their views challenged, they simply want them reinforced and accepted by all, and anything short of that is unacceptable to them.

If there is anything I have learned in this life, it is that there is hardly anything more scary (and dangerous) than people (or nations) that are absolutely convinced that they have all the right on their side. And it seems to me that this wonderful land of ours is in desperate need of men like Walter Cronkite, who for almost two decades was able to sit behind a desk and calmly give his country all the important facts they needed to better understand their world – no spin – no nauseating bias — just the truth as best he could discern it.

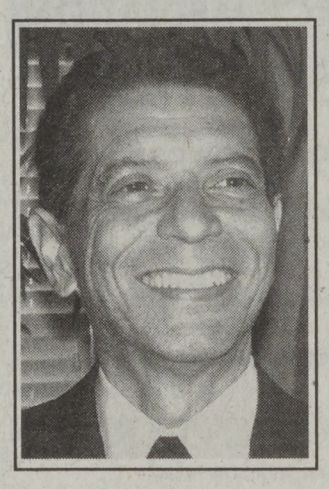
SPORTS INSIDER



By Richard Novoa

The Giants (50-42) two game wild card lead over the Rockies has evaporated into thin air with the G-Men losing four of five games since the All-Star break. The Colorado (51-42) Rockies have come out firing from both barrels and have taken a half game lead in the wild card hunt over San Francisco. Both teams trail the division leading Dodgers, who have the best record in baseball with 59 wins and 34 losses, by 8 games.

The Giants' main concern is their lack of scoring runs especially after squandering tons of base runners in their last 10 games. The Giants are ninth in the NL league in batting at .259 but are next to last with only 63 home runs and tied for 14th with the Reds with 354 RBI's. It's obvious the G-Men need a clutch hitter in the cleanup spot to protect Sandoval and Molina and if he can hit the ball out of the park, that would be an added bonus.

The Giants pitching staff is leading the way to their playoff hopes with National League best ERA of 3.54 with 13 shutouts and 732 strikeouts plus their bullpen has only allowed a major league low 93 earned runs.

The Giants brass has picked up the pace in their search to find another bat to fill in their run producing weakness. The Giants have already raided their farm system for all available bats so the only other option is to make a trade. I just hope they don't give up on Jonathan Sanchez or dangle Matt Cain in front of some teams just to make their wild card playoff push this season.

The rumor mill has the G-Men looking into trading for the A's Matt Holiday, who blasted two home runs Monday in the A's 10-run come from behind win against the Twins. Another player mentioned is Alex Rios from the Blue Jays. Rios is batting around .264 with 10 home runs and 48 RBI's and is Toronto's gold glove center fielder.

Another interesting name that keeps popping up on General Manager Brian Sabean short list is home grown first baseman, Nick Johnson, who is currently hitting .305 with 6 HR's and 40 runs batted in for the last place Nationals or their slugging outfielder Adam Dunn, who has 24 ding dongs and 60 RBI's.

Stay tuned for some last minute deals around the "Big Leagues" before the July 31st trade deadline. The Giants, Mets, and Rockies are all shopping for players to make their August push to the playoffs while teams like the A's, Indians and Nationals are looking to shed some payroll heavyweights.

Kings Korner

The Kings signed 6-foot-9 forward Omri Casspi, to the maximum amount allowed by the NBA's rookie salary scale, $1,167,000, in his two year agreement. The young Israeli player, who averaged eight points and 4 rebounds in the Kings Rookie league, is still deciding if he's going to play for his national team in August. This guy should bring a new level of excitement to the new look Kings in the 2009/10 season.

River Cats

The River Cats 8,056 loyal fans weathered the 102 temperature on Sunday afternoon to watch the Cats beat the Reno Aces 4-1. But the hottest cat in town is designated hitter Tommy Everidge who has gone 8 for 13 in the last four game of the home stand raising his average to .343. Look for the A's to bring up the young slugger for quick cup of coffee in the next few days.

The Cats (59-36) are on the road again this week with eight-game trip starting in Tacoma and finishing in Colorado Springs on July 27th. The Gatos return to the friendly confines of Raley Field on Tuesday, July 28th to host Salt Lake City Bees for a four series before they hit the road again on August 1st.

Korner Kicks

The USA national soccer team continues to win coming away with a 2-1 overtime victory over a determined and more experienced Panama in the CONCACAF Gold Cup quarterfinals before 31,087 at Philadelphia's Lincoln Financial Field. The USA is resting their starting team after a grueling tournament a few weeks ago in South Africa where the USA place second to improve their World Cup rankings to 12th in the world.

Brazil is ranked first followed by Spain, Holland, Italy, Germany, Russia, England, Argentina, France, Croatia, Greece and then the Red, White and Blue. Mexico's team is ranked 33rd in the world.

The USA now moves on to Chicago and a rematch with Honduras in Thursday's semifinals. The U.S. beat Honduras 2-0 in group play, but since then Honduras has played well and the U.S. will not be able to field as strong a team with their European-based players returning to their clubs to prepare the European season.

Mexico's squad also finally returned to their old form scoring four goals in one game even though it was against Haiti but the youngsters seem to be enjoying their new found surge for the goals. Next up for the Mexico is Costa Rica in the second game of the semi-finals from Solider Field in Chicago on Wednesday, July 23rd.

Another interesting note was that the Gold Cup quarter final soccer games were the first sporting event to be played at Jerry Jones and his new Dallas Cowboys $1.15 billion stadium in Texas.

Enjoy your day- see ya next week!

A pennant for West Sac juniors

The West Sacramento Little League junior division All-Star team found itself in the "losers bracket" in its championship tournament on July 12, and then found itself down 8-0 early against Antelope.

But West Sac rallied to tie the score 12-12 in the seventh inning.

Logan Snyder provided a game-winning hit, sending his West Sac team to a championship game (also against Antelope) on July 13.

West Sac opened that game with great pitching by Thomas Salvino, as well as strong offense and defense, jumping ahead 14-3 by the fourth inning.

In the fifth, with a 15-7 lead, West Sac's Justin Rozell provided a hit with two runners in scoring position -- and the "mercy rule" was invoked, ending the game early because West Sac led by ten runs.

The victory with a final score of 17-7 gave West Sac the pennant.

The team will play in sectional championships beginning Saturday in Folsom.

Home Port merges with Lyon

One of West Sacramento's best-known local businesses has just merged with a regional powerhouse.

Home Port Realty, established by the late Roland and Jewell Hensley in 1975, is now part of Lyon Real Estate, which has a branch in Southport.

"I met with Mike (Lyon) probably four years ago and we got close to doing this," said Ron Morazzini, who has co-owned Home Port Realty with his wife, Theresa, and parents Ron and Brenda Morazzini, since about 2000. "We looked around, and ended up coming back to Lyon. Lyon Real Estate is a family-owned business – his dad founded it. Inside Lyon, everybody has everybody else's back, and it's run really well. I just knew this was a good opportunity."

Morazzini is now a "broker associate" at Lyon's office at the Southport Town Center. Home Port's real estate division is closing, but its property management operation will stay in business, he said.

Preschool stories: now in Russian

From the Yolo County Library

Beginning tomorrow, for the first time, the Yolo County Library will offer a summer, bi-lingual story time for pre-schoolers, in both Russian and English, on Thursdays at 3:00 p.m. at the Arthur F. Turner Branch Library located at 840 Jefferson Blvd in West Sacramento.

The Yolo County Library invites children, ages 3 through 5, and their families to come and enjoy a lively afternoon of stories read in Russian and in English. All are also invited to participate in learning finger-plays, songs and craft activities. Those who intend to bring a group of five or more are encouraged to contact the library prior to the story time. Children under the age of 3 are welcome if accompanied by an adult.

"Russian story time is one of two bilingual programs which provide family literacy services in West Sacramento," said Yolo County Librarian Patty Wong. "Both First 5 Yolo and the Institute of Museum and Library Services have been very generous in their support of our focus to better serve our diverse communities."

"The library is a free resource to all and we welcome all community members to participate in its many programs and services," said Yolo County Board of Supervisors Chair Mike McGowan. "Russian story time offers our youngest customers and their families an opportunity to hear stories in their own language, building their literacy skills and encouraging a love of reading and lifelong learning."

The Russian story time program is being offered through a generous grant from the Institute of Museum and Library Services (IMLS) to serve the literacy needs of the Russian-speaking community in West Sacramento. The library also provides a Spanish story time. For more information, contact Reema Rajbanshi, IMLS assistant coordinator or Toni Mendieta, IMLS coordinator (916) 373-3143, the Arthur F. Turner Branch Library (916) 375-6465, or access the website at www.yolocountylibrary.org.

WASHINGTON NEWS ITEMS

The Sacramento river registered 2 ieet 8 inches, United States gauge at the Southern Pacific bridge yesterday. This reading was taken at high tide, and a few hours later on the gauge showed a height of 1 foot 6 inches.

No raids have been made on the Chinese places of business during this past week by either Sheriff Monroe or Constable Buckingham, although the officers have been urged to take a hand in quelling what is believed to be gambling. In these Chinese places a great deal of talk can be heard at any hour of the day or night and frequently there is a loud clatter of bones or similar material believed by many to be dominoes or some such similar implement of pastime. So far nobody has been able to witness the game and consequently a doubt is expressed by many there are any games being played by the Chinese of the town.

Last Wednesday V. Reynosa was arrested for reckless driving on Anne street and in appearing before Judge Barry was fined $25, which was immediately paid. The accident happened on Labor Day when Reynosa backed his automobile up the grade in front of the Beale store, dangerously imperiling the front of the store and several automobiles that were parked in the immediate neighborhood. Mrs. Homer Lee of North Sacramento, who had her car standing in front of the store, made a dash to escape from the backing automobile of Reynosa and in doing so shot across Anne street where her car was seriously damaged by another automobile that had just come down the bridge incline and which could not stop in time to save Mrs. Lee's automobile. No blame was placed on the newcomer in the fracas, for Mrs. Lee acknowledged she was out of her place at the time the accident happened.

Harley Austin was liberated from a Sacramento Hospital after spending several days under the care of physicians for a deep cut he sustained last Saturday in Trinity county while out deer hunting. Harley was using an ax on a stump of an old tree to get some grubs for bait on a fishing trip. The ax slipped from the old stump and severed two cords of his right foot just below the ankle. His companions noting the bad condition of the wound started immediately from Trinity county and landed in Sacramento that evening when he was taken to a hospital for attention.

On September 1st, Manuel Lewis of West Sacramento was robbed when a shotgun was taken from his home at the lower end of the district. The rear door was pried open during the absence of the family in Sacramento and the shotgun taken, while nothing else of value so far as ascertained was touched. The complaint was lodged with Constable Buckingham the following day but no trace of the intruder has been found.

Jack Reuther, the popular Washington barber during many years past, has purchased the vacant lot at the corner of Third and Elizabeth streets. On this lot he expects to build a home and a shop to accommodate his business and has announced his intention to do so immediately. The lot is 40x80 feet and is located on the southwest corner immediately opposite the town hall. Evidently it is the intention of the Chinese to take up the location that has been occupied by Reuther on Anne street during several years past.

If Chinese take up the Reuther barber shop on Anne street the entire frontage of the lot will be occupied by the newcomers with the exception of the post office in a short space of time. A remarkable change has come over this section of town since the advent of orientals. Automobiles are lined up at nearly every hour of the day along this frontage and many pedestrians can be seen on the side walks who were absent for many years in the past. Quite a lively change is shown in this strange change and yet the Chinese are not making themselves obnoxious by crowding women off the walks or using coarse language in the presence of ladies or girls who happen to be passing that neighborhood.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Davis are soon to occupy the new house which they have built on the old Lynch property on Second street. The house is one of the three small cottages which are to be completed in the near future.

Mr, and Mrs. H. Garber and Mrs. Sarah Garber and Ed Garber spent the week-end at Clear Lake.

Miss Essie White, with Miss Helen Holt of Alameda, returned on Sunday from a two months' European trip. They visited Rome and Paris and many other European cities during their stay. On their return Miss Holt visited in Washington for two days before going on to Alameda.

Miss Georgia Mathena, who has been ill at her home, is improved.

Miss Josephine Vergilio, with Miss Marie Johnson of Oak Park and Miss Rickett, went to San Francisco on Wednesday to enter the San Francisco county hospital as a student nurses. The three will complete their nursing training at the San Francisco hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. William Bartle are enjoying an outing in Lassen county. Mr. and Mrs. W. Glasford and John Peek, also members of the party who went to Oregon for a fishing trip, have now rejoined Mr. and Mrs. Bartle and with them will return home in a few days.

Mrs. James Machado and Miss Marian Rada left last Saturday for Suisun, where they will engage in the restaurant business. They will be joined later by Machado and Mrs. A. Caffaro, mother of the former.

Harry Van Baaren has purchased a home in Oak Park and will take possession of it about September 15th.

LITTLE FAULT IS NOW BEING FOUND WITH CHINESE LEASEHOLDERS IN WASHINGTON

Today, September 7th, the first trial of the accused Chinese gamblers of Washington took place before Judge Barry, but too late for this paper to get the details before going to press.

Subpoenas had been issued yesterday for jurors to take a hand in this trial and it was estimated that some little difficulty would be experienced in the selection of a jury.

A great many of those eligible to serve had alreay signed petitions to the district attorney asking him to oust the Chinese gamblers from Washington, praying for relief from what they termed objectionable neighbors.

These people, it is presumed, will be ineligible to serve as trial jurors because they have already expressed their antipathy to the accused men, denominating them gamblers and unworthy neighbors.

In all there are ten Chinese up for trial.

The case of Ah Lum cannot possibly be held tomorrow because the case of Yong Key, the first to be tried, will take up considerable time, and attorneys rightly take such steps as will fail to mitigate against their clients.

If gambling is to be the principal occupation of the Chinese, who have taken up their stores in Washington, then it is not a great credit to the town, but they have conducted similar stores in Sacramento right at the very gateway of the community and no fault has been found.

Reports have it that if treated fairly and squarely more Sacramento Chinese are coming to open business houses in Washington, but if they are not given a square deal no more premises will be leased by the orientals in this locality.

Last Sunday night a gang of youngsters laid siege to the building occupied by Chinese at the corner of Third and Anne streets. Several windows were broken in the place and some windows were broken in the vacant house next door where Harry Steuben formerly lived.

On Monday morning all windows on these premises were wired so that rock throwing in the future will be ineffective in breaking lights or glass.

In all but one of the stores opened by Chinese a semblance at least of a store is shown. In most of them cigars, tobacco, tea and coffee are kept in stock and some oriental goods like nuts, candies and other notions are also carried in stock. These may be only a bluff to cover what goes on behind the partitions of the Chinese store, but at any rate no flgrant violation can be seen by any Americans in the vicinity of the institutions.

A word has been passed to the Chinese that their men should not block the sidewalk on Anne street, although many of them may be seen loitering around, especially during this warm weather. An immediate response was made by the lessees of the places and the men or very few of them loiter along the sidewalk between Second and Third streets.

One thing is certain and that is that no rude or lascivious talk or curse-words are being heard from the Chinese who may be waiting near those premises to foul the ears of women or children who may be passing.

This is certainly a welcome change to residents of the town, for on many previous occasions coarse and vile expressions might be heard in this neighborhood.

One lady speaking to the Independent yesterday, remarked:

"I have not much love for Chinese as neighbors of mine, but I prefer to have those people than to have others whom I am not going to mention who might find my washboard or my dishpan very conveniently placed on my back porch."

It is understood that the petition of the Chinese to the P. G. & E. Co. for a supply of gas for cooking and heating was one of the principle levers that prompted the corporation to start installation of its supply for all the residents of Washington.

PEARS FROM REED ORCHARD WIN PRIZE FOR YOLO COUNTY

Yolo county was awarded the sweepstake prize for counties on pears last Tuesday at the California state fair in Sacramento. Twenty-six varieties, the majority from the Hayward Reed Rose Orchard Farm, were on exhibition.

Particular attention was paid by Hayward Reed to the selection of pears from his orchard for the exhibition this year with the above result. Yolo county has fared extremely well at the hands of the judges this year but on this particular commodity the pears from Reed's orchard made a record.

CLARKSBURG ITEMS

Frank Alamo and Miss Helen Fratis were married at St. Joseph church on Saturday Sept 1st and after the ceremony left on their honeymoon.

Jos L. Contente was in San Francisco a couple of days attending the monthly directors meeting of the I. D. E. S.

The Clarksburg union school opened on the 4th, the attendance being very large this year.

On Sunday last, Jos L. Contente and family, Joseph Soto and family, Wm. Soto and family, Peter Maceil and family, Joseph Mederas and family, M. Garcia and family, all motored to see Rasco Park where they spent the day.

Budgie Soto has returned home after spending four weeks with his Aunt Mrs Laura Garcia of Riverside.

On Sunday the 9th, Jos R. Contente supreme financial secretary of the I. D. E. S., Frank Azeveda, M. S. Contente, Joseph Fraga and Manuel Foster will leave as delegates for Tulare Calif. to attend the annual convention of the I. D. E. S. which will be in session there one week.

YOLO SWAMP LAND IS VALUED HIGHLY IN LATE WILL

Woodland, Aug. 30.—That swamp land in Yolo county has a high value from an agricultural standpoint is indicated in the probate of the last will and testament of Frank J. Tromp, prominent resident of the Clarksburg district, who died August 21st last, and filed here this morning with County Clerk Harry R. Saunders by Lester Hinsdale of Sacramento. The petition states that the principal item of the estate is 126 acres of swamp land near Clarksburg valued at $25,000.

The entire estate is of the value of about $45,000. The will is dated August 8, 1923, and leaves the entire estate to two sisters and a nephew. They are Mrs. Sophie Scribner of Freeport, petitioner named as executor of the will, Mrs. Mattie Herringer of Clarksburg, and Seymour Gorter of Clarksburg, a nephew.

Besides the swamp land, the deceased left coin amounting to $5,500; notes and mortgages of the value of $10,500; liberty bonds amounting to $2,500; rentals, personal property, household furniture and the like, making up the balance of the large estate.

AN ACT OF REAL CHARITY AND GOOD WILL.

Laboring under many difficulties and living as best he could during the past two years, Rev. Father Marcucci became the recipient of a real act of good will and charity last week, when his entire home on Third street was practically refurnished throughout.

The furnishings were not purchased by Father Marcucci, but were the gift of a good lady of Sacramento, who was fully acquainted with the difficulties with which he labored.

The donor was Mrs. George K. Rider.

GREAT TRAFFIC CROSSES THE SOUTHERN PACIFIC BRIDGE EVERY DAY

Out of curiosity, Constable Buckingham and Dan Ryan, watchman at the end of the Southern Pacific bridge, counted the number of automobiles crossing from Yolo county to Sacramento last Sunday evening.

To their great astonishment 225 cars passed in the first half hour of the count, and in the first hour of the count 470 cars passed the Third street crossing on their way to Sacramento.

Just about that time the Southern Pacific drawbridge opened and during a space of twelve minutes at the most while the draw was open 168 automobiles lined up on the right side of the road from the head of the draw as far west as Fourth street.

This is a wonderful showing for the amount of traffic that crosses the bridge from Yolo county and points west of Sacramento. It is an indication of the vast amount of business being done by Sacramento merchants with residents from points west of the Sacramento river.

A few years ago when a similar count was made it was estimated that during the busiest day of the state fair when a collision of railroad engines was about to take place at the fair grounds the count showed that 925 cars passed from Yolo county into Sacramento.

The count that was started last Sunday would go to show that in the twelve hours of daylight 5,640 cars passed from Yolo county over the Southern Pacific bridge to Sacramento.

This is a wonderful showing that may not exactly keep up every day of the year, but it is an evidence of the great business being done by the merchants of Sacramento with people who make their homes along the state highway between Washington and San Francisco

The service station now operating on Fifth street, under direction of Frazer & Doyle, was so busy of late that another pump has been installed to help along the patrons of the station.

$300,000 ASSESSMENT APPROVED FOR RECLAMATION DISTRICT 1600

Woodland, Eept. 6.—Approval of the $300,000 assessment on Reclamation District 1600, comprising the district near Elkhorn and the Fremont weir, was voted Tuesday by the board of supervisors. The assessment provides for the payment of debts and is divided among twenty-five owners of property. A fund for the upkeep of the district is also left. The viewers were W. G. Stephens, J. Reith, Jr., and R. G. Lawson.

A gross profit of $379,000 was made by the Leviathan on her maiden trip, according to figures issued at Washington. Receipts on the outward voyage from New York to Europe were $111,000 and those on the return trip $368,000. The actual operating expenditures, not including capital cost and other overhead, for the round trip totaled $400,000.

Anyone found hunting on these premises will be prosecuted according to law.

REMAINS OF UNIDENTIFIED MAN FOUND NEAR RIVER

In the vicinity of the Horst packing plant in West Sacramento and in the jungles along the river last Wednesday the remains of a man were found with no means of identification.

It appears from what could be learned from campers in the neighborhood that the man had complained of being sick but refused to allow anyone to call in a doctor.

They urged him to go to either the Sacramento or Woodland hospital on last Tuesday but he refused and told them that he would be all right in a day or so.

Wednesday morning his remains were found in the camp, life having fled during the night, and Coroner Wilson of Yolo county was notified immediately.

Constable Buckingham took charge of the remains until the arrival of the coroner when a search was made of the body without discovery of anything that might lead to identification.

The man was apparently about 45 years of age with dark hair, slightly tinged with grey. He was about 5 feet 8 inches in height, wearing blue overalls, a blue serge coat and a soft brown hat.

REMARKABLE COINCIDENCE ON DEATH OF DR. ARBOGAST

For some considerable time past it has been customary with Dr. J. L. Arbogast to advise the Independent when births occurred in this locality and frequently when he was present at births in Sacramento he included an account of those in his communications.

Last Friday, August 31st, Dr. Arbogast wrote the Independent advising of three births, three boys in Sacramento and one girl to Mrs. Albert Curry of Bryte.

The communication did not reach the office of the Independent until Tuesday morning, September 4th, because the postoffice was closed on Sunday, September 2d and Monday, September 3d.

On the night of September 3d Dr. Arbogast was shot by a bandit in Sacramento and consequently his message to this paper was like a message from the dead.

Bits & pieces

Let's see, now...

If you could take those lanes they're now removing from part of West Capitol Avenue, and add them to Jefferson Boulevard south of the freeway...

West Sacramento police have been conducting "homeless sweeps" along local riverfronts in recent weeks, attempting to close camps and trying to refer people to local social services.

No, it's not the City's motel sign.

That new sign along the Jefferson Boulevard offramp (coming from Sacramento) advertising those thousands of motel rooms in the City of West Sacramento was not erected with city money. The sign was created by the local motel/hotel association.

The News-Ledger's interpretation is that Washington Unified wants school uniforms so badly that was willing to cut some corners. State law requires that a district give parents six months notice of a new uniform policy, which WUSD hasn't done. The district argues that this isn't a new policy – just a variation of the old one that changes the requirements at several schools. To which any decent lawyer would respond that "you may have had a policy, but not this policy. You need to give six months notice." Simply put, some families are going to have to go shopping for new school clothes because of this policy, and the law requires that they get six months' notice.

The district also made a choice not to inform parents they could "opt out" from school uniforms in the same letter it told parents about "progressive discipline" for kids who didn't comply. And the opt-out process is more onerous than it has to be – the family has to meet in person with district officials not once, but twice.

Far better if WUSD had just treated parents like adults. It should have made its case for uniforms and asked for family cooperation; it should have provided six months' notice as required, told parents up front about their right to opt out, and provided a reasonable way to opt out. That's how you maintain trust.

Letters to the Editor

Thank you!

I would like to thank the good Samaritans who came to my aid on Saturday, July 11th. I tripped and fell on an uneven sidewalk on Willow Street and was helped up by some very nice young men. Also thank you to the lady who poured her ice tea on my cut and bruised hands.

Don't let WUSD intimidate you

Your editor, Steve Marschke, asked Superintendent Lawrence a great question in the 7/15/09 article regarding school uniforms. "Instead of scheduling two daytime meetings with school personnel, can a family send a letter to the district saying they are opting out?" "No", said Lawrence. Of course Lawrence said no, he wants to make a parents' right to freedom of choice as difficult as possible.

Superintendent Lawrence is known to be a micro-manager but his refusal to accept an "opting out" letter via the postal service or e-mail shows his mean-spiritedness. It is hard for some parents to take extra time off from work just to be jerked around by the WUSD. I opted out last year at Riverbank school. It was a bit of a hassle but it was well worth it. Interestingly, Mr. Lawrence was too busy to meet with me when I showed up at "headquarters".

Our rights are guaranteed by our government. Parents, if you and your children do not believe that school uniforms is the right choice for your family, whatever the reason, do not let the principal or Superintendent Lawrence intimidate you into submission. If anyone wants to opt out but is nervous or afraid to speak to the principal or the superintendent, may I suggest parents go together in small groups. For those who have children attending Riverbank school and need help with this process, I'm easy to find and would be happy to help.

Children will always find ways to express themselves, if not through clothes, perhaps in ways that are actually harmful.

Wolk is right

A recent column in the Woodland Democrat criticized Senator Lois Wolk for working to protect Yolo County's interests in the Delta instead of focusing solely on the budget. Thank God, our good Senator has the ability to multi-task. With over $100 million in Yolo County agriculture that could be jeopardized by the some Delta proposals and similar impacts in other counties, Lois Wolk has emerged as a hero to those who wish to save the Delta while protecting vital community interests.

State Senator Lois Wolk is working on the budget and protecting the Delta.

She's authoring budget legislation (SB 676 County Fees) on behalf of Yolo County, and authoring two budget reform measures, SB 777 and SCA 22. SCA 22 would provide for a majority-vote to approve the state budget, provided there was no more than a 5% increase from the prior year. This would end the gridlock we face today but would still provide protection against a Legislature and Governor teaming up against the minority to approve excessive spending and taxes.

Senate Bill 777, which has bipartisan support, would establish a performance-based budget for California, requiring state agencies to identify goals and desired outcomes for each state-funded program as well as measurement tools for evaluating the program's performance in achieving those goals and outcomes.

That being said, working on the budget doesn't preclude taking action on other critical issues.

It can be noted that those who want Delta water would love nothing more than to do it behind closed doors while everyone is focused solely on the budget.

But Senator Wolk is representing the best interests of her constituents—all of them. As the representative of four of the five counties located in the Sacramento San Joaquin Delta, she is living up to her responsibilities by working to ensure that the Sacramento-San Joaquin Delta has an ongoing role in its own management. She's been a strong advocate for the Delta's more than half a million residents since becoming a public servant—and she's one of the only voices in Sacramento actually speaking for the needs of the Delta community.

For that, we should thank her. Not chastise her.

Jumping through hoops

I am amazed at the denial of the School District Administration when it comes to their violating the rights of students and parents as voiced in last weeks "opt out" article. Here is the California Education code 35183:

"(e) The governing board shall provide a method whereby parents may choose not to have their children comply with an adopted school uniform policy.

"(f) If a governing board chooses to adopt a policy pursuant to this section, the policy shall

COUCH THEATER DVD PREVIEWS

PICKS OF THE WEEK

"The Middleman: The Complete Series" — This is one of those great shows you probably never watched — or heard of. It's based on a series of graphic novels by "Lost" writer Javier Grillo-Marxuach about a young artist named Wendy Watson who is recruited to be the sidekick of The Middleman, a secret government agent/superhero. It reminded me a lot of "Men In Black." The show is good clean fun (it ran on The Family Channel) and yet is smart, savvy, sophisticated and a true gem for fanboys and fangirls alike. Highly recommended.

"Life on Mars: Series One" (BBC Version) — Probably one of the coolest, quirkiest shows to come out of Britain in this decade, "Life on Mars" tells the story of Sam Tyler (played John Simm), a modern-day London police detective who is hit by a car and finds himself awaking in 1970s Manchester. Has he really traveled back in time? Is he in a coma and dreaming all this? Or is Sam just some delusional crackpot imagining all of this?

That's part of the mystery Sam needs to unravel — and the allure of the show, because you don't know for sure until the series finale. Meanwhile, every week Sam tries to cope in a time where there are no cell phones, Internet, CSI-like forensics or politically correct codes of conduct, and yet still solve crimes and the mystery of who he is.

DOG OF THE WEEK

"Battlestar Galactica: The Complete Series" — I haven't chosen "BSG" as Dog of the Week because I have something against the series. To the contrary, I thought Seasons 1 and 2 were awesome (3 and 4 not so much). No sir. The reason this boxed set is Dog of the Week is due to its pricing. The set retails for $280. You heard right. Nearly 300 smackeroos — about twice as much as what you'd pay if you bought each season separately on Amazon.com. This boxed set doesn't really come with much in the way of extra special features, so basically, if you want to pay an extra $150 for nifty packaging, knock yourself out, Cupcake. As for me, I'll keep my copies of Seasons 1 and 2 and forget the other seasons didn't happen.

The Devil's Tickets: A Night of Bridge, a Fatal Hand, and a New American Age
by Gary M. Pomerantz
(Crown, $26)
Reviewed by Larry Cox

One evening in 1929, Myrtle and Jack Bennett began an evening of bridge in their Kansas City home with another couple. What happened next would make headlines throughout the country.

Minutes after Jack calls his wife a "bum bridge player" and slaps her across the face, a gun appears, and Myrtle fires five shots, killing her husband. The bloody event was triggered by more than just an argument. Myrtle later revealed that she was afraid of losing her husband — a traveling salesman — to other women, and it was this fear that elevated their dispute to its deadly crescendo.

Throughout the 1920s and '30s, bridge was a nationwide fad, and players throughout country soon became riveted by the murder in Kansas City. Myrtle hired James A. Reed, a former and future Democratic presidential candidate, as her defense attorney. Reed, one of the most prominent men in Kansas City and a cog in the Pendergast political machine, created high drama in the courtroom and kept the trial on the nation's front pages.

In a highly readable new book, Gary M. Pomerantz brings both the case and its aftermath into sharp focus. Set against the backdrop of the early years of the Great Depression, it is a story filled with colorful characters and surprising twists. For example, there is Ely Culbertson, a cunning player with a Russian accent who was one of the first American players to capitalize on the bridge craze. He saw the Bennett murder as an opportunity and used it as a way to dramatize bridge as the ultimate battle of the sexes. He and his wife, Josephine, became international bridge champions, and they helped redefine the game.

The Kitchen Diva BY Angela Shelf Medearis

Abundance of Squash Inspires Creativity

My kitchen garden contains long, vibrant green vines containing beautiful, edible, yellow flowers. The blossoms precede an abundant crop of summer squash. Summer squash are members of the gourd family and include zucchini, cocozelle, yellow squash (crooked and straight) and pattypan, also called scalloped and scaloppini.

Summer squash is available year-round, but are best from May through July. They should be harvested when the rind is tender and the flesh is sweet. To select the perfect summer squash at the grocery store, look for ones that are medium-sized, with shiny, unblemished, slightly tender rinds. The larger ones may be fibrous with hard rinds and seeds. The smaller ones may not have developed much flavor.

Summer squash is very fragile and should be handled with care, as small punctures and drops of water will lead to decay. They should be stored in the vegetable bin of the refrigerator, unwashed and in a perforated plastic bag, for no more than three to five days. Wash the squash immediately before cooking.

Squash can be frozen, but it will be soft, making it more suitable for dishes like casseroles where crispness isn't important. To prepare squash for freezing, cut off both ends and cut it into cubes or slices. Blanch for 2 minutes in hot water. You also can freeze grated summer squash.

Summer squash is low in calories, but the nutrients are in the peel, so never peel summer squash. Squash is a good source of vitamin C, magnesium, vitamin A, dietary fiber, potassium, copper, folate, phosphorus, omega-3 fatty acids, vitamins B1, B2 and B6, calcium, zinc, niacin and protein.

Squash is deliciously versatile and can be prepared in casseroles, as croquettes, stir-fried, stuffed, baked, boiled or as the "crust" for this recipe for Sneaky Squash Pizza.

SNEAKY SQUASH PIZZA

This squash-based pizza "crust" tastes great and is good for you. The pumpkin puree in the tomato sauce provides a boost of beta-carotene and fiber. You can add 2 or 3 ounces of sliced pepperoni, if desired, but this all-veggie version is delicious. Any leftover sauce can be used on pasta, refrigerated for up to five days or frozen for three months.

Squash Crust:

- 3 cups grated zucchini
- 3 tablespoons olive oil, divided
- 3 Eggland's Best eggs, well-beaten

Bybar of Stock.xchng photos

- 1/2 cup flour
- 1 tablespoon Italian seasoning
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon black pepper

Sauce:

- 1 cup canned, unseasoned pumpkin puree
- 1/2 cup no-salt-added tomato sauce
- 1 teaspoon garlic powder
- 1 teaspoon black pepper
- 1/2 teaspoon sugar
- 1/4 teaspoon ground nutmeg

Topping:

- 1/2 cup finely chopped green onions
- 1/2 cup finely chopped bell pepper
- 2 large tomatoes, thinly sliced
- 2 1/2 cups shredded mozzarella cheese
- 1/2 cup grated Parmesan cheese
- 1 tablespoon Italian seasoning

1. Generously oil a 9-by-13-inch baking pan with 2 tablespoons of olive oil. Preheat oven to 450 F. Put grated zucchini in a colander and press out as much excess liquid as possible. You can also roll the grated zucchini tightly in a clean dishtowel and twist it to wring out any excess water to ensure a crisper crust.

2. Put the zucchini in a mixing bowl. Add beaten eggs, flour, Italian seasoning, salt and black pepper. Mix well and spread mixture evenly in baking pan. Bake in 450 F oven for 8 minutes.

3. Remove baking pan with zucchini crust from oven, and reduce temperature to 350 F. Using a medium bowl, mix together the pumpkin puree, tomato sauce, garlic powder, black pepper, sugar and the ground nutmeg until well-combined. Spread sauce evenly over baked zucchini crust.

4. Combine onions and bell peppers and sprinkle vegetables over the sauce. Arrange sliced tomatoes on top and sprinkle with mozzarella and Parmesan cheeses and Italian seasoning. Drizzle the cheeses with remaining tablespoon of olive oil. Bake at 350 F, uncovered, for 25 minutes. Makes 6 servings.

SUPERIOR COURT OF CALIFORNIA, COUNTY OF YOLO
CASE NO. SA07-77
CITATION TO PARENT

In the matter of the Petition of MARCO A. GARCIA and MARGARITA GARCIA to terminate parental rights of father of minor children and declare minor free from parental custody and control.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA:

TO: ALL PERSONS CLAIMING TO BE THE FATHER OF ANGEL MARC ANTHONY GARCIA, A CHILD BORN TO ANGELA MARGARITA GARCIA ON APRIL 26, 1998:

By order of this court, you are hereby advised that you may appear before the judge presiding in Department 14 of this court on 8/11/09, at 8:30 a.m., then and there to show cause, if any you have, why ANGEL MARC ANTHONY GARCIA should not be declared free from your custody and control and your parental rights to ANGEL ANTHONY GARCIA be terminated for the purpose of freeing ANGEL MARC ANTHONY GARCIA for placement for adoption.

The following information concerning rights and procedures that relate to this proceeding for the termination of custody and control of ANGEL MARC ANTHONY GARCIA as set forth in Family Law Code 7860 et seq.:

1. At the beginning of the proceeding, the court will consider whether or not the interests of ANGEL MARC ANTHONY GARCIA require the appointment of counsel. If the court finds that the interests of ANGEL MARC ANTHONY GARCIA does require such protection, the court will appoint counsel to represent them, whether or not they can afford counsel. ANGEL MARCH ANTHONY GARCIA will not be present in court unless he so requests or the court so orders.

2. If a parent of ANGEL MARC ANTHONY GARCIA appears without counsel and is unable to afford counsel, the court must appoint counsel for the parent, unless the parent knowingly and intelligently waives the right to be represented by counsel. The court will not appoint the same counsel to represent both the children and their parent.

3. The court may appoint either the public defender or private counsel. If private counsel is appointed, he or she will receive a reasonable sum for compensation and expenses, the amount of which will be determined by the court. That amount must be paid by the real parties in interest, but not by the minor, in such proportions as the court believes to be just. If, however, the court finds that any of the real parties in interest cannot afford counsel, the amount will be paid by the county.

4. The court may continue the proceeding for not more than thirty (30) days as necessary to appoint counsel and to enable counsel to become acquainted with the case.

include a provision that no pupil shall be penalized academically or otherwise discriminated against nor denied attendance to school if the pupil's parents chose not to have the pupil comply with the school uniform policy. The governing board shall continue to have responsibility for the appropriate education of those pupils."

It is very clear that parents have the right to opt out of uniforms. It does not say that it is at the discretion of the school district, or that the parent must give a reason. It merely says they have the right to opt out. Having the families jump through several hoops is a violation of their rights. Monetary is not the only reason some parents might choose to opt out.

Superintendent

(Superintendent) Lawrence did acknowledge that "There's always been an opt-out policy." Then why was that option not relayed to parents in the letter sent to them by the school district? To use "progressive discipline" for not wearing the correct colored and type of uniform is a appalling. Also, I do believe that one could challenge the 6 month notification, as the intent is to give families an opportunity to prepare for the uniforms. If students are not going to be allowed to wear uniforms that were acceptable last year in the coming year then the district should have given that 6 month notice.

This is just another example of the "out of touch" communication the district has with the community. But wait, they will be asking you to pay back the 75 million dollars they borrowed without your permission. If this "out of touch" behavior does not change, I believe they will once again get a "no" vote on their next school bond.
